This document outlines:

1. HMX Extender System Version 4.30.0.18 Overview
2. Upgrade Information

1. HMX Extender System Version 4.30.0.18 Overview

NOTE: There is no benefit gained by upgrading existing transmitters or receivers from version 4.0.0.18/4.10.0.18 to version 4.30.0.18 unless you are planning to upgrade to version 6.x. Version 4.30.0.18 exists only as an upgrade path to a version 6.x HMX extender system.

NOTE: Once an HMX extender system moves to the .30 code (either version 4.30.0.18 or 6.30.x.x), it cannot revert to a previous non .30 release.

- The features and functionality of HMX extender system transmitters and receivers at version 4.30.0.18 are the same as versions 4.10.0.18 and 4.0.0.18, and version 4.30.0.18 is compatible with both.
- When used in a system with the HMX Manager, HMX extender system transmitters and receivers at version 4.30.0.18 provide a single upgrade path from both 4.0.0.18 and 4.10.0.18 to version 6.30.x.x.

NOTE: All version 4 transmitters and receivers should be upgraded to 4.30.0.18 before they are upgraded to version 6. Also, all lower transmitter and receiver versions should be upgraded to 4.0.0.18 or 4.10.0.18 before being upgraded to 4.30.0.18. Any other upgrade path may leave the units unusable.

2. Upgrade Information

NOTE: There is no benefit gained by upgrading existing transmitters or receivers to version 4.30.0.18 unless you plan to upgrade to version 6.x.

If you are using the HMX extender system with an HMX Manager and upgrading from version 4.x to 6.x, follow the upgrade procedure outlined in the release notes for HMX Manager version 6.0.0.48.
